

Nobody Knows How Dry They Are

President Hoover, Dry Champion 1928

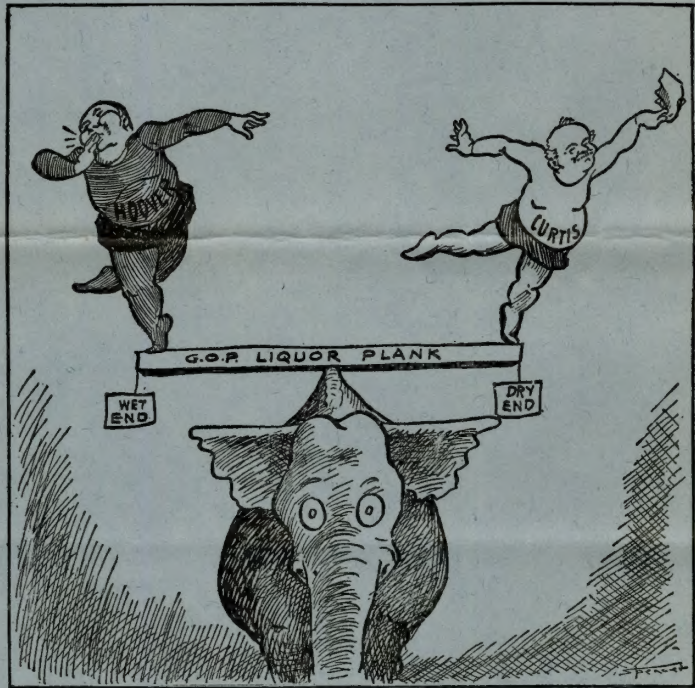

"I do not favor the repeal of the 18th Amendment—I consider it a great social and economic experiment, noble in motive and far reaching in purpose."

President Hoover, Eleventh Hour Wet 1932

"It is my belief that in order to remedy present evils, (of the liquor traffic) a change is necessary by which we resumption a proper share of initiative and responsibility which the very essence of our Government demands shall rest upon the states and local authorities." . . . "It is my conviction that each state shall be given the right to deal with the problem as it may determine" . . .

Vice-President Curtis, Safely Bone Dry 1932

"Personally . . . I am opposed to the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

OMAHA WORLD HERALD

The Republican platform and Republican spokesmen have attempted to mislead the people about prohibition as they have done about other important economic and political questions.

Do you want evasion and hypocrisy on vital national issues?

Do you admire leaders whose principles shift with every political wind?

Democrats Have: A Clear Platform—Honest Candidates

The Democratic Plank on Prohibition reads: "We favor repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment." In order to obtain much needed government revenue, it further favors immediate modification of the Volstead Act to legalize light wines and beer.

The Democratic Platform as vigorously as the Republican demands:

- (1) Strict federal protection to states that choose to remain dry
- (2) Prevention of the return of the saloon

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for President, says: "The Eighteenth Amendment has been a prolific source of corruption, hypocrisy, crime and disorder. I, for one, believe it is time to retrace our steps for we have wandered far from the road toward eventual temperance with a hopeless morass of crime and law defiance."

Roosevelt and Garner will carry out the Democratic pledges
